Schatzi! Where are you? Chris told me you come to europe for a week. How do we go on with our little conversation when you're in europe? Huggs Andreas I did send you this last Monday... red & black? sounds horrible. you think it was a good treatment??? I'm wondering that you still do the „tourist guide“ for Shanghai - you didn't like it when I was there... I think it's a love & hate thing. And it's very similar what I feel about Berlin. In Europe they all thought after 9/11 when the wall felt that life will be brand new. Nothing changed. You know - it's really the same with Shanghai & Berlin: of course they should pay you for your ideas - ideas are not important ant any more: you have greasy guys in ugly suits & they „manage“ - they decide about what ideas are worth. I would love to have a drink with you. NOW. Can I send you MP3 music files??? Love Andreas don't worry - same with me. But I thought you're in Europe?? Even in Berlin??? Sure I believe you that you were sick - but I am really sad we didn't meet. Why did you come? How's your health now? Are you coming again this year?? I will be in Madrid from Wednesday next week for four days. The opening of a really crazy hotel - 17 of the world best architects & designers were doing one floor each. Europe is not so bad as well. Last week I lost my drivers license - Now I am not supposed to drive for three months probably - I HATE IT! I HATE SUBWAYS!! Huggs Andreas

It seems your life is really really full of surprises. You never told me about the movie. What's it about? And I didn't know that your friends with Angelika Taschen. I just left a message on her phone, because I want to meet her. Where did you get to know her? You're really crazy... Why does your body hate you right now??? Sound really horrible. Love & Power Andreas honey, i am happy that you will go that crazy hotel, you are so lucky, my shoulder problem getting better but my stomach got more fucked, i think i should be very careful with acupuncture, because even one needle is wrong than all fucked. too bad we did not meet this time, in fact, i went there just to meet my best girlfriend Angelika from Taschen, she is my sister, so most of the time i just relax with her, i love the street she lives, east, beautiful trees shops restaurant, everything is in one street, but i was so sick, so did not really drink or be crazy. i went Paris for money this time, for my movie, we going to shoot it very very soon. talk to you later, honey! please give little words about the hotel later. LOVE Kika

My darling i know these days she is super busy..... better you wait for few days if she did not answer you maybe i can help but before that i have to know what you want she do for you. darling, hope you understand that because these days she is really really busy no stop. i been working on this movie project already 4 years, now finally i got the money to do it. will let you know when it been done. Monday i will go to see a doctor, 80 years old lady . i believe that she will make me fine very soon. we have to be healthy and fine, this is the real revolution. LOVE Kika

What did the doctor say? And tell me more about the movie!!! It's four o'clock at night - I can't sleep. There's so much I should do and so little I'm doing. I should have written two interviews till today in the morning... I hate these boring typing hours. Do you enjoy writing?

Years ago I was coming home at four. And now... I feel like my father. That's not nice. Love Andreas

Darling Just came back from Dubai. It's 0.45 in Berlin and I'm sooooo happy to be back home. It was really very very strange. What do you think about covered women??? The women there told me they do it because they want to. I don't believe it... It's such an artificial place. No blood no tears just money. And ugly buildings. The deadline is ok. BUT WRITE NOW - or they kill ME. Love - Want to see you soon. What about meeting in Peking?? Huggs ANDREAS

My darling, i hope these days you did not drink too much, i am kind of stopping drinking now, but every week maybe once , but since i came back from Beijing i drunk three times already and smoked 11 boxes of cigarette. yesterday my doctor once again said to me that i should stop drinking, she said i can only two small spoon of red wine every night because my heart my liver my lung is not very well and top of that, my shoulder and my back are fucked. i know i really can not drink any more. without drinking life can not that much fun. but lets say YES to life. i think my big problem is that i have lovesickness inside my body. more than four years i being a lone and never had a boyfriend but always had sex with the tourist who going to take plane second day. i can only have sex with a stranger until i in love with that French boy. and i loved him 18 months. now i dont know what is kind of feeling of him i having, i stop seeing him and talking to him for last three weeks. i told him that we can have two choose, one is be your girlfriend even you dont have sex with me anymore. other is be your friend but with lots of sex. it sound funny and fucked up but this is life. he loves me but i dont understand what is kind of love he has and what kind of problem he having, if he does not want to share his problem with me than i have to stay alone and fact to my own problem, and my big problem is that i want his love for women only belongs me, i dont mind he had sex with others, but he can not love others otherwise i have to leave. when i am in Beijing i stay alone two weeks and without phonecalls and internet only with my daughter in the day time, and after two weeks, i start to feel not that sad anymore, and that moment i start to sad for this NOT SAD. it was big taphoon in Shanghai, everyone was going out, but all my friends was asking where we should go and where is interesting, this is Shanghai's night life problems now. but new things will happen soon, last night my best friend ask me to go for a meeting, they going to open a club named Bon Bon, and they spend lots of money and energy to make this place became a most interesting real high class place in Shanghai. we will see. i want a place where can make me easily pick up beautiful smart young boys. lets dream of this..... my best friend Franck's best friend came to Shanghai from France and stay at my home, he is beautiful smart and tough boy, Franck always said i should marry him but now he is my lawyer at least, not that bad. man afraid of me i think.man are strange.... this man said some times when he having sex with girls the girls face disappeared in the middle of the sex and he can not remember her name ... why so many french man having problem with sex. i dont know about German man.....i dont know man, i know nothing about man my dear.... about my work i was in the very difficult time to think what i really want for my movie, because i dont feel the pleasure for writing or any kind of my work if this work connect with Panda Sex projects. when i write Candy i am tired and surfing but i was feeling the pleasure all the time, so i think must be something wrong with my works if i dont feel the pleasure anymore. this Panda story killed me. but now i am feeling much more better because i closed myself two weeks for love and works. i am going to shoot this film very soon and now i even dont like Shanghai anymore, i hope i can save myself from this mess and i think i have to make great film because i love my producer at least. strange thing is i start to receive phone calls from a stranger from France, always let me listen some recording of babe cring but no one really talk to me. two days before she called again and Franck's best friend, the lawyer found out her name. i dont understand French man but i also dont understand french girls now. maybe she thinks that i want her boyfriend or husband, but why use this way to me, this is very strange, after have sex with French, life is strange . and i really dont want to touch a man if he has girlfriend or wife. Beijing is great, full of artist, lots of things happening every day. everytime when i came back from Beijing that i feel like new born babe. god, i blah blah blah a lots, this made me thinking of Angelika Taschen, when we write each other we always blah blah a long letter, and when we in the taxi most of the time we blah blah about man, and when we in the bar we blah blah about ideas, sometime we forgot everyone who around us, we just look at each and talk. such cute girls.... have to run to a dinner, this guy maybe will give some money for my film. the Panda Sex movie is about strange Shanghai Down town. i wish you all the best my darling, dont drink too much, lets say YES to life !LOVE Kika
